NATO Commander Says Attack Would Bring Retaliation

WASHINGTON (UP)—Gen. Louis Norstad, supreme commander of NATO military forces, said today it would be impossible for Russia to destroy all of the thousands of retaliatory bases ringing that country.

In a copyrighted interview with U. S. News & World Report, Norstad said a Soviet attack—"whether by missile or otherwise"—would bring instant destruction on the Soviets "of a very high order."

"An aggressor would have to destroy thousands of places simultaneously—every air base, every missile site—to escape retaliation," he said. "As we go along and add missile launchers, there will be increasing thousands of places an aggressor would have to destroy in one blow."

"No aggressor can do this," Norstad said. "It is impossible... either now or in the future."

Weapons Fully Effective

The NATO military chief said the West's retaliatory power is "fully effective" with its manned bombers, base system, and "missiles with ranges of hundreds of miles that... are actually deployed right now" in Europe.

He said the Free World's striking power would continue to be improved in time with the addition of ballistic missiles and better manned aircraft.

Meanwhile, Vice President Richard M. Nixon urged Americans to come away from their "weeping wall" over failure of the first U. S. satellite launching and "get behind our missile people."

Scorning any "defeatist" attitude, Nixon assured Americans that the Florida misfire did not mean the nation suddenly was "bankrupt of brains."

Urges Budget Boosts

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) urged that the defense budget be boosted 50 per cent to include funds for a fleet of 100 atomic submarines capable of launching ballistic missiles.

"We should put our military weapons system on a wartime footing," he said. "Otherwise, we will be destroyed."

and Kentucky authorities Sunday he killed Murial Baldridge, 17, a high school cheerleader, by clubbing her with a pipe wrench on June 28, 1949.

Taylor, who was sentenced in 1953 to a 1-to-10-year term for check fraud, had previously been questioned in connection with the mystery slaying, but denied knowledge of the crime.

Authorities said Taylor recently wrote Michigan City police he wanted to talk to someone to clear up the murder case.

While police tape recorded his statements, Taylor at first blamed the slaying on a friend, then broke down and admitted he killed her.

Det. Sgt. Paul Wilhelm of the Indiana state police said Taylor told of being in a car with Miss Baldridge and "a blonde" and another man.

Taylor said he had been "drinking corn whiskey," according to police, and got into an argument with Miss Baldridge "over her other boys friends" and her refusal "to leave" with him.

The convict's confession said he beat her several times on the head with the wrench and then he and the other man carried her body beneath a bridge over the Big Sandy River and hid it in bushes. Miss Baldridge's body was found the next day.

Kentucky police said Taylor drew maps which tallied with the location of the crime and the area where the body was found. They said Taylor's description of the killing matched known details of the crime.

Kentucky authorities said they are seeking the blonde woman and man Taylor said were with him at the time of the slaying.

Farmers At Crossroads, Shuman Says

Federation Opens Annual Meeting; to Oppose Gov't Curbs

CHICAGO (UP)—The American Farm Bureau Federation, the nation's largest farm organization, met in annual convention today at what its president called "the crossroad of national agricultural policy."

The 1½ million-member federation, always cool to federal government controls, opened four days of sessions amid indications it would take an increasingly strong stand against government curbs on the farmer.

Charles B. Shuman, Sullivan, Ill., president of the AFBF, called it "a critical hour for agriculture" and said "American farmers are at the crossroad of national agricultural policy."

"The big question facing voting delegates at this convention will be: How do we move away from further encroachment by the federal government on agriculture's economic decisions?" Shuman said.

Shuman said the present farm price support and control program is a "demonstrated failure." He said "only a dent" has been made in the stockpile of surplus farm products and "new farm income has been pinched between reduced farm prices and rising operating and marketing cost at a time when most other segments of the economy have been enjoying general prosperity."

The convention's resolutions committee, which has been deliberating for nearly a week behind closed doors, was reported working under strong urging from Shuman to speak out sharply against controls.

The committee was scheduled to begin presenting resolutions at the first general session of the convention Tuesday, but major decisions on national farm policy were not expected before Wednesday or Thursday.

Today was devoted to conferences in special interest fields such as dairy, field crops, fruits and vegetables, livestock and poultry and meetings of farm bureau women and youth groups.

Shuman was expected to amplify his ideas on what course agriculture should take in his annual address Tuesday morning.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson will address the convention Wednesday.

Mount Vernon Jailer Is Ready in Second Attempt at Jail Break

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (UP)—A jailer, who was locked up by a Jefferson County jail inmate Saturday night, faced the same situation again Sunday night. But the second time, he was ready.

Jailer Burrell Patterson, 56, noticed that the lights were out and the shower running in the cell occupied by Jerry Banes, 16, Mount Vernon. When Patterson called, Banes did not answer.

So, the wary Patterson notified Sheriff Leonard Wood, who advised him to get help. Patterson got Deputy John Richardson to enter the cell block with him. When Patterson entered Banes' darkened cell, the youth leaped at him from behind a door, swinging a letter opener.

Patterson and Richardson subdued the youth. Neither was injured.

Banes is the buddy of another inmate who was the key man in an attempted jail break Saturday night.

Police said Hubert Schmidt, 20, was put in the third floor cell block of the Jefferson County courthouse Thursday on auto larceny and burglary charges. He was on parole from Menard State Prison at the time, officials said.

An escape plot was hatched sometime before Saturday, when Schmidt was to get out of his cell, knock out the guard and release 15 other prisoners with the guard's keys.

Schmidt got out of the cell Saturday night on schedule, but when jailer Burrell Patterson, 56, came to make the 10:15 p. m. check, Schmidt used his feet instead of his fists. Patterson said Schmidt jumped down from the top of an air vent, rushed past him and locked the cell block door.

Patterson ran to the window to summon help, but his whistles and cries were thought to be greetings by passers-by. They waved back. Patterson was saved complete frustration when Robert De-ment, 15, thought something might be wrong in the jailhouse and called Sheriff Leonard (Smoky) Wood.

Wood flashed word to state and local police, who converged around the court house. When police entered the building, they found Schmidt, shoes in his hand, hiding beneath a staircase.

The 15 other prisoners never even got out of their cells. Schmidt had failed to take the keys from Patterson.

Will Determine Trip to Paris For NATO Parley

President Will Return to White House This Afternoon

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP)—President Eisenhower will undergo a full-scale medical examination at the White House Tuesday afternoon to determine whether he should go to the Paris NATO council meeting.

The President has been resting here since last Thursday night. He was scheduled to motor back to Washington this afternoon.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said he expects the White House will make public their findings shortly after the examination. A group of physicians, including neurologists, will begin, following the examination, what Hagerty described as a "consultation" at 1:30 p.m. c.s.t. Tuesday.

Hagerty said he does not expect the President to hold a news conference Wednesday. Eisenhower last met with reporters on Oct. 30.

Hagerty continued to shrug off reports that the President might resign.

He was asked specifically today about a statement by Gardner Cowles, president of the Des Moines, Iowa, Register and Tribune Co., that Eisenhower might retire and that the chief executive is not as well as published reports indicate.

"It is remarkable how many people there are that don't know anything about the President's case who are remarking on it," Hagerty said.

"As for the President's condition today, Hagerty said, 'he feels okay.'"

The press secretary said Sunday that Eisenhower "certainly" has benefited by his days of rest at the farm.

Eisenhower, who suffered a mild stroke two weeks ago today, wants very much to attend the Paris meeting of the heads of state of North Atlantic Treaty nations. As of now, and pending the medical exam, he believes he is physically up to the task.

If his doctors do not give him a go-ahead to attend the meeting, they will in effect be saying that Eisenhower is not now up to heading an important diplomatic mission.

Apparently to clear the way for his possible attendance at Paris, the President planned a busy schedule for Tuesday and Wednesday. Among other things, he will meet with his cabinet, the National Security Council and with his economics advisers.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Why Scientists Leave Government Service And U. S. Lags Behind Russia In Science: Condon, Pioneer On Missile Nose Cones, Quit Subsequent To Nixon's Probe Of His Activities.

LOS ANGELES. — One of the most important parts of our missile developments is the nose cone. It must be strong enough to withstand a speed of several thousand miles an hour, yet light enough not to bog down the missile.

In the latter part of 1954, the man who did the pioneer work on missile noses, Dr. Edward U. Condon, drove from Corning, N. Y., to Washington in his station wagon to deliver a new nose cone to the Navy. The Navy, however, refused to accept it.

It had called in Dr. Condon and asked him to put his inventive genius to work devising the new missile cone. It needed the nose badly. But now it refused to accept it.

Behind this paradoxical position was one of the most shameful chains of events in United States government. It illustrates why scientists were driven out of government and why the U. S. A. is so tragically behind Russia in science.

What happened was that Richard Nixon as congressman from California and member of the Un-American Activities committee, had staged an investigation of Dr. Condon in 1947-48, when Condon was director of the Bureau of Standards in Washington. There was no accusation that Condon was a member of the Communist party, only that his wife was gossipy, that they had attended a Yugoslav cocktail party, that he was guilty by association.

Condon was one of the best men ever to head the Bureau of Standards, was credited by Dr. Edward Teller with shortening development of the H-Bomb by one year. Yet Nixon, sitting on the powerful Un-American Activities committee, investigated every sentence he ever uttered, checked on every important person he'd ever talked to.

Averell Harriman, then secretary of Commerce and Condon's boss, defended him. Condon was cleared. But eventually, tired of being hit over the head he, like so many other scientists, decided to get out of government. He went to work for Corning Glass at Corning, N. Y.

To work for Corning, however, he had to clear another loyalty investigation, since Corning was handling government contracts. This was extremely thorough. Because of Nixon's earlier charges, the Eastern Regional Security Board took from July 1953 to 1954 to act, at which time it completely cleared Dr. Condon.

It was in July 1954, after he was cleared, that the Navy asked him to go to work on the badly needed nose cone for missiles. And it was in October 1954 that the Navy refused to accept it.

THOMAS HURT NAVY PROGRAM

In between, here is what happened. The same Nixon, now vice president and campaigning in Montana for Republican candidates in the 1954 election, learned on October 19 that Dr. Condon had been given a final security clearance. He picked up the phone and called Washington. Two days later, October 21, Secretary of the Navy Charles Thomas removed Condon's security clearance.

The record on Condon was one foot high and weighed 10 pounds. It had taken a loyalty board of experts one year to study the record. But the secretary of the Navy, after word from Nixon, acted in an hour. He could not possibly have studied the record.

In thus acting, he not only drove another valuable scientist away from a government project, but he hurt his own missile program.

For Thomas' subordinates, a day or two later, refused to accept the missile nose cone which Dr. Condon had rushed to completion and driven to Washington in his station wagon.

It made no difference. Condon's security clearance had been removed, and the Navy refused to accept the nose cone. Dr. Condon drove it back to Corning, N. Y.

Three weeks later, the Navy called Condon, sheepishly said they would take the missile nose cone, after all. As developed by Condon, the cones are now the basis for our present-day missiles.

Later, however, the Air Force blacklisted Corning Glass because Dr. Condon had no security clearance, and, rather than handicap his firm, he resigned. His boss, staunch Republican Amory Houghton, now made ambassador to Paris by President Eisenhower thought so highly of Condon that he put up $100,000 for his independent research. But Dr. Condon still is lost to government.

Nixon even made a speech in the 1954 campaign boasting how he had forced Condon's security clearance to be revoked.

When he was a young judge, Maximilien Robespierre resigned his position rather than sentence a criminal to death. Yet later in French history he became known as the man who caused the worst days of the Reign of Terror. While he was in power about 1,200 people were sent to the guillotine within six weeks to enforce his ideas of morality.

Found throughout most of Nebraska is the pocket gopher, named for its fur-lined pockets. These pockets, actually complete pouches, are on each side of the head and neck. Using its front feet so fast that the human eye can hardly follow them, the gopher inserts food or nest material in one pocket and then the other.

HAND-PICKED for MURDER

Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.
Copyright 1957 by Robert Martin
By Robert Martin

THE STORY: Jim Bennett, a private investigator, has gotten off on the wrong foot with a prospective client, Hugo Howell, before Howell knows that Bennett is the detective assigned to the case. A fight with Bennett gets Howell locked in jail overnight. Jim calls at the jail the next morning but finds Howell has been released.

Campbell spread his hands and said wearily, "I was busy this morning with other matters. Mr. Howell demanded to be released and I couldn't hold him, not with out court action. He was sober and, frankly, I wanted him out—this is the day we clean the cells. That man who was with him last night—Lott?—came after him. I gave Howell a warning about creating any further disturbances, and he promised to behave. I didn't think it mattered."

"I wanted to see him here, before he starts drinking again." I was irritated, but decided I'd better keep on the good side of the law. I summoned a smile and added, "But it's all right, Chief. I understand."

He watched me silently as I turned and went out.

I reached the Harbor House and entered the cool, dusky lobby. The elderly clerk there told me that Mr. Howell was in his room, No. 210. I asked him if a Mr. Lott was also registered.

"Yes, sir," he consulted a ledger. "Two-twelve, right next door to Mr. Howell."

I thanked him, went up the carpeted stairs to 210 and knocked on the door. A gruff voice said, "Come in," and I did.

Hugo Howell was slouched in a chair by a table, a whiskey bottle on the floor beside him and a glass in one hand resting on his bulging stomach.

Sitting in a chair by the window was the pale, pudgy man named Ambrose Lott.

I closed the door and nodded at Howell. "Good morning."

"Well, well," he said in his rasping ugly voice, "look who's here."

"Can we talk privately, Mr. Howell?" I cocked an eyebrow at Ambrose Lott.

"I ain't talking to no fancy, cocktail-drinking bar fly who picked a fight and got me locked up."

Lott stood up, took a slow step forward, his right hand snaking around to a hip pocket. "Don't try it," I said softly.

I watched Lott. His hand came clear holding a limp, leather-covered sap. I moved quickly and caught his wrist in one hand. He struggled and I slapped him hard across the face. He tried to squirm away, making no sound. I wrenched the sap from his hand and stepped clear. Howell shouted some thing.

I moved forward, grasped Ambrose Lott by an arm, hustled him to the door and shoved him out. His straw hat had fallen off. I kicked it out of my way and swung on Howell. He backed up, sudden fear in his eyes. "Now, look here," he said in a suddenly shrill voice. "I'm an old man and I don't want no trouble. I—I apologize for last night. It was my fault. Let's just forget it."

Economic Group
Proposes Land
Retirement Plan

WASHINGTON (UP) — A land retirement plan to get small farmers into other employment was proposed today by the Committee for Economic Development.

Unlike the present soil bank plan, the CED said, "The proposed land retirement plan would concentrate on getting whole farms out of production to assure reduced output and . . . encourage movement out of agriculture."

The CED is a committee of 150 business executives and scholars "who work together . . . to promote a high level of national employment and maximum economic growth."

Its statement said American taxpayers have spent 25 billion dollars in 25 years on farm programs and major farm problems still are unsolved.

The statement was issued by the CED's program committee of its research and policy committee, and procedures for operation of the report criticized "the standards the soil bank program for taking surplus acres out of production."

It called for "a major overhaul of procedures, based on a change in philosophy away from the income-price support view of farm assistance . . . to get an effective soil bank."

The CED called for a shift to free markets in agriculture. Its plan would permit "a limited transition period" in which price supports would be gradually reduced and the land retirement plan put into effect to help farmers move to other occupations.

Between the ages of 5 and 13, Frank is 34, with curly black hair, an olive complexion and piercing black eyes. Susie is 32, slightly taller than her husband, with an olive complexion and long black hair.

An FBI spokesman explains that swindlers pick victims carefully, learning their weaknesses before ever making the pitch. Also, he warns that many of the most successful swindlers look nothing like the smooth, handsome confidence man.

Instead of good looks and suave charm, they rely on a special technique to make people completely trust them.

"The skilled swindler has a superhuman ability to captivate and beguile you into believing that he's a tried and true friend," the FBI official says.

Settled in 1764 by French fur traders, St. Louis, Mo., still is the largest raw fur market in the United States.

They're Out to Grab Your Life Savings

By JERRY BENNETT
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — So you think you're too smart to be a sucker.

Then take a closer look at the sincere, convincing gentleman who is going to make you rich overnight. For there's a good chance that he's one of the Federal Bureau of Investigation's five most wanted swindlers.

And his principal aim in life is to clean you out of every cent you've got.

Look at him carefully. Does he have blond hair, blue eyes, a crooked nose, and a scar on the back of his right hand? Does he know how to speak French? If so, the FBI warns that you may be about to lose your life's savings to Gerard Albini Groulx.

Last year, two brothers accused the 30-year-old Groulx of swindling them out of almost $3,000. Posing as a doctor, it's reported that he duped his victims into believing he had invented a new drug.

Then he convinced them that they could count on getting executive positions in the corporation which would produce his brainchild. In return, Groulx asked for money to help get the drug patented.

The brothers sacrificed their entire savings. This is only one of many fantastic schemes which confidence men use to fleece gullible citizens.

If you've just been guaranteed a killing on the horses, chances are you're dealing with Edward Thomas Freeman or Michael Victor Schlising, experts at pulling off the lucrative "Judge Baker Swindle."

Here's how it works:

After gaining your complete confidence, the swindler reveals that he wants to help you win a fortune at the race track. Later he announces that he placed a bet for you and won.

But there's just one problem. He's got to put up some "good faith" money in order to collect the winnings. And right now he's a little short.

The victim shells out and never sees his cash again.

The FBI describes Freeman as about 54 years old, weighing between 160 and 202 pounds. He has blue eyes, thinning light brown hair, a ruddy complexion and protruding front teeth. Two moles are on the right side of his nose. And he's an habitual cigar smoker. The FBI says that in 1954 Freeman took part in at least four swindles which netted about $140,000.

Schlising is in his middle or late 50's. He has graying black hair, brown eyes and weighs between 157 and 160 pounds. Scars are located over his left eye, on his nose and right and left index fingers. The FBI reports that he is now living in Canada where he fled after jumping bail in California. He was accused of helping to swindle a Los Angeles couple out of $24,000.

The last two fugitives are Frank and Susie Johnson, a gypsy husband and wife swindling team. They have been accused of conning an elderly couple out of more than $9,000 by convincing them that the money was cursed.

The woman, posing as a fortune teller named Madame Susie, persuaded the victims to leave the money in her care. She promised to remove the curse and double the cash at the same time. The old couple fell for it.

The FBI believes the Johnsons now might be traveling with a carnival. Also, they may be accompanied by three children be-

Moscow Has Mid-East Hold
Despite Eisenhower Doctrine

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—One of the big Republican boasts during the 1956 political campaign was that not a single country had been lost to communism since Eisenhower became president.

The claim was not entirely accurate. For though the United States had no direct part in it, the Geneva cease-fire agreement of 1954 let northern Viet Nam go Communist.

Now, however, the GOP boast of '56 is totally invalid. For Syria has come under Communist domination.

Egypt is also under heavy obligations to Russia, though the leaders of both the Egyptian and Syrian governments maintain that they are acting independently of both East and West.

The few feelers that have been made by Egypt and Syria to improve their relations with the United States are continually offset by a stream of the most vile and abusive anti-American propaganda. It pours out of Cairo and Damascus radio in Arabic to inflame the whole Middle East against all western influences.

THE LATEST manifestation of this is the agitation to have King Hussein of Jordan assassinated on the ground that he is a tool of American imperialism and a traitor to the Arabs.

This is considered merely an extension on another front of the propaganda which Russia built up over the completely phony charge that Turkey was threatening to invade Syria.

While Moscow had the United Nations worrying about a proposed resolution to investigate this Turk-Syrian situation, the Russians quietly put over their 100-million-dollar credit and economic aid agreement with Syria.

Its net effect will be to give the Russians a long-term hold on the Syrian economy that will be impossible to displace. As soon as the agreement was signed, the Russians dropped their charges against Turkey in the United Nations.

So the Russians have now leapfrogged Turkey and are solidly in the Middle East. This is just what the Eisenhower doctrine was intended to prevent.

THE FAILURE of the Eisenhower doctrine was that it was directed only against military aggression or internal subversion by Communist forces. It did not foresee the possibility of a direct economic tie-up between Russia and a Middle East country. At least it is ineffective against such an agreement.

Meanwhile, the Egyptian situation becomes more complex daily.

First there is a proposal to put a 3 per cent surcharge on all traffic moving through the Suez Canal. This is to repay the U. N. for the eight million dollars its member countries—principally the United States—advanced to clear the canal after the Egyptians had deliberately blocked it.

This is making the Suez Canal users pay for damages that should be more properly assessed against the Egyptians who seized the canal.

Americans Spending Two Billion Abroad

CHICAGO — Americans, long rated the "best spenders in the world," should dispose of about two billion dollars abroad this year, according to the Chicago Motor Club's international travel department.

Since 1949, expenditures by American travelers in foreign lands have more than doubled any previous total.

Included in that figure are $1,275,000,000 spent in foreign countries and $540,000,000 spent on travel fares.

Europe and the Mediterranean area top all other spots for travel favor, with an expenditure of $473,000,000. Canada is the second favored spot, totaling $316,000,000.

Over-all dollars spent in Europe during 1956 jumped 10 per cent over the previous year and that same increase is expected for the next few travel seasons.

The survey attributed much of the spending to the new budget tours and the pay-later plans instituted by airlines and steamship companies.

AFL-CIO Blames Eisenhower for Low Federal Pay

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (U) — A report blaming President Eisenhower for stunting the pay of postal and federal employees in the face of rising living costs was adopted unanimously today at the AFL-CIO convention.
The report of the resolutions committee pointed out that government workers have received only one general wage increase, amounting to less than 8 per cent, in the past six years. It said, "The blame, to a great degree, must rest at the door of the White House."
The delegates also adopted unanimously resolutions calling for a "sound" federal workmen's compensation plan, hospital and medical insurance for federal employees and granting of recognized holidays to federal employees including those which fall on Saturday.

Subway Strike Snarls Traffic In New York City

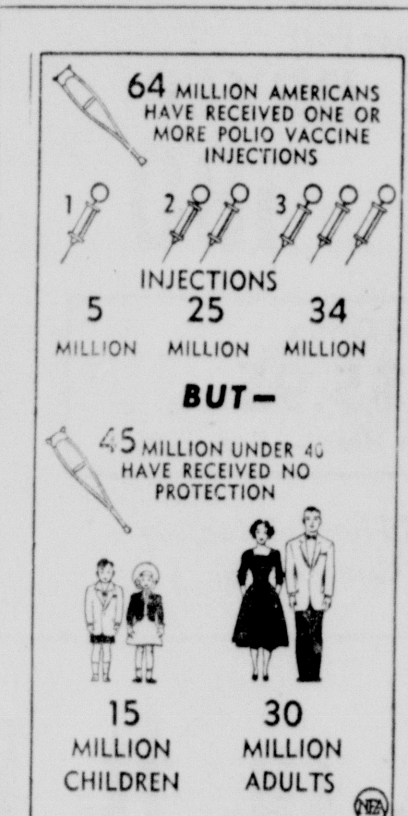

NEW YORK (U) — A strike of subway motormen snarled transportation in New York City and many of its suburb today. The massive traffic tangle was complicated by heavy rains and snow was forecast for later in the day.
The strike came at a time when Christmas shopping added to the normally heavy Monday load of business and office workers.
Police estimated half of the city's subway system was shut down at the height of the morning rush hour. Another 25 per cent of the lines were operating on curtailed schedules.
Members of the striking Motormen's Benevolent Assn. vowed to stay out "till Teddy gets out of jail."

Since the full course of three injections requires 8 months to complete, and since the danger of polio is greatest in summer, the Health Service says it is urgent that those with no protection start their shots at once.

Stratton Urges Research for Traffic Safety

WASHINGTON (UP) — Illinois Gov. William G. Stratton today urged that the automobile industry and related businesses step up their research in the prevention of traffic accidents.
If the highway death toll is not reduced, Stratton warned, the federal government may step in and clamp controls on industries serving the motoring public, such as placing a limit on horsepower.
Stratton, chairman of the National Governors' Conference, made his remarks in a speech prepared for delivery at the public officials traffic safety conference of the President's Committee for traffic safety.
He said industries, such as automobile manufacturers, oil companies and auto insurance firms, while already contributing greatly, can do even more in the drive for traffic safety.
"I suggest that research by these firms and industries be tripled, quadrupled," Stratton said. "I suggest that through the formation of additional foundations and methods of financial help they can aid our universities and colleges in the same programs."
Stratton said "we do not know yet the motivation that so often brings about bad, dangerous driving, nor have we yet found a really successful way to make each driver aware of his individual responsibility."

Indonesia Orders All Dutch-Owned Plantations Under Government Control

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UP) — Prime Minister Djuanda today ordered all Dutch-owned plantations placed under government control.
The order urged employees on all estates "and other agricultural enterprises" to stay on the job.
Djuanda issued the order in his capacity as defense minister.
Dutch estates in Indonesia comprise a large proportion of the $1,300,000,000 in Dutch economic interests in this island republic.
The premier's order gave rise to speculation that the government moved to take over the plantations in an effort to prevent workers' federations from seizing the estates piecemeal.

Followed By Minor Blasts

The takeover order came several hours after the PIA news agency reported that the Indonesian army's biggest ammunition dump blew up Sunday night. The tremendous blast rocked the west Java capital of Bandung. There was immediate speculation that sabotage caused the blast.
The reports telephoned to Jakarta said the explosion occurred at Bojongkeneng about four miles from Bandung and was followed by a series of minor blasts for another 2 1/2 hours.
There was no immediate report on casualties but PIA said there were ten barracks at the depot and that 20 guards were on duty at time of the explosion. Fate of the guards was not immediately known.

Area Residents Terrified
Roads in the area were filled with terrified residents of the area while sirens announced the beginning of a state of emergency. Reports from Bandung said ambulances were not permitted at the scene.
Persons who have seen the ammunition depot described it as a

Ottawa Suffers First Defeat; Herrin Wins Two

By United Press
The Pekin Chinks who were nosed out in the state supersectionals by Ottawa in a double overtime thriller last season charged right back into the upper ranks of Illinois high school basketball during the weekend.

Pekin put on a sensational defensive display to hold Bloomington to a meager four points in the first half Friday night and coast to an easy 73-30 triumph. Then the Chinks came back Saturday night and ran over Canton, 69-56.

Chick Coach Bob Cain has four lettermen back from season's Sweet Sixteen club.

Top-ranked Ottawa, meanwhile, was toppled from the unbeaten list, going down before Rock Island, 57-46, Saturday after winning three straight. The Pirates had beaten La Salle-Peru, 65-44 Friday night.

Defending state champion Herrin notched its second and third triumphs of the new campaign, clipping Murphysboro, 69-51, Friday and shelling Johnston City, 76-36, Saturday.

West Frankfort, another strong and unbeaten southern entry, added two more victims, Benton, 49-34, Friday and Zeigler, 69-48, Saturday.

Springfield Cathedral which didn't win a game all last season, scored its fourth straight victory—and the Cyclones did it against last season's state tournament runnerup, Collinsville, 48-43, Saturday.

Paris, the favorite for the Eastern Illinois League crown, added Robinson and Vandalia to its list of victims, 50-48 and 71-58, respectively.

Elgin, one of last season's Sweet Sixteen, split a pair of games, winning over De Kalb, 60-41, Friday and losing to Decatur, 60-54, Saturday.

Jacksonville remained unbeaten with a 55-49 decision over Wood River Saturday.

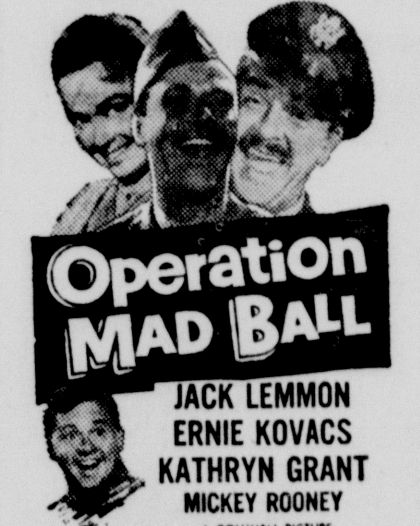

Quincy also won Saturday, 52-46, over Litchfield. Taylorville's Tornadoes dumped Greenville, 47-40, Friday, then came back Saturday and stopped Springfield, 65-53.

Other weekend double winners included Marion, 61-57, over Harrisburg and, 59-53, over Murphysboro; and Springfield Lanphier, 84-70, over Athens and 81-55, over Havana.

Carrier Mills Wildcats Edge Bull Dogs, 57-55

Sink 2 Free Throws in Final Seven Seconds To Break 55-55 Tie

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs today had a 2-2 mark and the Carrier Mills Wildcats remained undefeated following their basketball contest at Carrier Mills Saturday night won by the Wildcats, 57 to 55.

With only seven seconds left in the game, B. Smith of the Wildcats calmly sank two free throws to break a 55-55 tie and send the Carrier Mills fans into a frenzy.

Twelve seconds earlier John Stone, Bull Dog sophomore who was high for the evening with 22 points, had tied the count with a couple of free throws.

The game was odd in that Carrier Mills sank free throws for its first nine points as the Wildcats ran up a 9-2 lead. Harrisburg then played on even terms with Coach A. L. Willis' boys the rest of the period, which ended with Carrier Mills leading, 17 to 11.

Bull Dogs Lead at Half
Harrisburg outscored Carrier Mills 15-8 in the second quarter to hold a 26-25 edge at halftime.

The third quarter, however, saw Carrier Mills overcome the Harrisburg lead at 36-34 and go on to a 44-39 lead at the end of the period.

In the last frame, Harrisburg started pulling up until the Bull Dogs went ahead at 51-50 on Gary Stricklin's field goal with about two minutes left in the game.

Vern Rollins of the Wildcats then connected on three free shots to put the Carrier Mills boys ahead at 53-51. But Stone tied the count at 53-53. Then Keene of Carrier Mills slipped under for a basket and Carrier Mills was on top 55-53 with seconds remaining.

Then Stone's two free throws to tie the count came with 19 seconds left and this was followed by

Harrisburg Coach John Dotson slightly altered his starting combination for the game, putting Stone and Kinch Jones at forwards, Ron Maynard at Center and Ray Hassett and Bob Pavelonis at guards. Pavelonis fouled out early in the second quarter and Gary Stricklin, who had started the first three games, took his place. Two other Bull Dogs left the game on fouls—Jones and Maynard.

Coach Willis started Rollins, Manier, B. Smith, Keene and Williams and used Mitchell some in place of Rollins, who was high for the Wildcats with 18 points.

In the preliminary contest the Bull Pups lost to Carrier Mills, 46-34. Carrier Mills led at half-time 22-16 and at the end of the third quarter 35-24.

This week the Bull Dogs will have two home games, meeting the Herrin Tigers, the state champions, on Friday and Johnston City Saturday.

SIU Sets Two Swimming Marks in Win Over Kansas

CARBONDALE, Ill. (U)—Southern Illinois University today held two individual school swimming records, plus a team swimming victory over Kansas.

SIU beat Kansas, 43-38, in the team swim competition Saturday. The school individual records were set by Lonnie Tettaton, who covered 200 yards via the backstroke route in 2:31.5 and Joe Barry, who freestyled over 100 yards to set a new SIU mark, 1:56.4.

The Kansas team took home two wins however. John Jeffrey set a pool record of 2:31.5 in the 200-yard butterfly. His teammate, Jared Piaty, was the meet's only double winner with wins in the 220-yard and 440-yard freestyle swims.

Knicks Beat Hawks, 113-110

By United Press
The St. Louis Hawks' eight-game home winning streak was at an end today and their lead in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association was down to one game.

The Hawks' skein was snapped by the New York Knickerbockers Sunday, 113-110. Meanwhile, the second-place Cincinnati Royals picked up ground by going on a third period scoring spurge to defeat the Philadelphia Warriors, 99-88, at Cincinnati.

No other league games were scheduled Sunday or tonight.

Minnesota With Three Wins Paces Big Ten in Warm-Up Cage Contests

CHICAGO (U)—Minnesota, boasting three straight victories, today led Big Ten basketball teams into the third week of warm-up activity against non-league foes.

The conference as a whole was battling .667 against the opposition, winning 14 and losing 7. No thanks was due to either Indiana or Ohio State who combined to add four losses to the slate.

The Buckeyes and the Hoosiers failed for the second time Saturday night to live up to the advance billing as Big Ten cage powers. Ohio State lost, 77-73, in an overtime session to Butler, and the Hoosiers dropped their second straight in losing, 66-61, to Kansas State.

Both get their next chance for a victory Saturday when the Hoosiers travel to Missouri and the Buckeyes play host to the Texas Aggies in an afternoon TV tilt.

Michigan State, picked to battle it out with Ohio State and Indiana in the upcoming campaign, closed the week with two victories in two starts, although the Spartans were idle Saturday night.

Minnesota made it three straight by defeating Vanderbilt, 89-85, Saturday behind the sharpshooting of forwards George Kline and Ron Johnson who bagged 26 points

Francis Florian, starting his fourth year as a regular on the West Frankfort high school basketball team, is expected to break the WF scoring record about midway in this season's schedule.

Paul Peeler holds the record at 1,140 points, scored during four years as West Frankfort center. Florian started the current season with a total of 970 points and started the season scoring at a 17-per-game average.

The one-year WF scoring record is held by Howard Dodds, now a forward with the Western Kentucky cagers. Dodds scored 524 points during the 1950-51 season.

The Southern Illinois University basketball team can be seen in action in a regular varsity game at Marion Monday, Dec. 23. Washburn college will be SIU's opponent in a benefit game.

Dick Gore, a fullback and guard Bill Wilson have been elected co-captains of the 1958 West Frankfort high school football team. They were introduced as next year's co-captains at the annual football banquet held recently. WF coach Ed Green awarded 22 varsity football letters, with an equal number of juniors and seniors receiving letters.

Being associated with an undefeated football team is a thrill long to be remembered, but to have close association with two perfect-record teams is 'way over par.

But Bill Glenn, assistant coach at Fairfield high school, can look back with considerable pride as being very much a part in two undefeated seasons.

Fairfield went through a nine-game schedule this past season without a loss. And the last previously unbeaten season at Fairfield was in 1935 and Glenn was a player with that team.

apiece. The Gophers are not scheduled for action again until Dec. 20 when they compete in Kentucky's tournament.

Illinois, Purdue and Iowa each chalked up their second win Saturday.

A balanced scoring assault led by John Paul and Don Ohl, each sinking 18 points, produced a 75-70 victory for Illinois over DePaul; Bill Greve's 16 points were tops in Purdue's 76-49 rout of Missouri, and Iowa's sophomore center Larry Swift pumped in 27 points to help greatly in the Hawkeyes' 80-63 romp over Arizona.

Michigan won its first game of the season with an 81-57 success over Nebraska, Northwestern was beaten, 71-65, by Kansas and Wisconsin lost to Notre Dame, 75-53.

Three Big Ten fives play tonight. South Dakota State is at Northwestern, Kansas State at Purdue, and Wisconsin travels to St. Louis to meet Washington University.

Irish Rout SMU, 54-21, in Closing Football Game

DALLAS, Tex. (U)—Notre Dame officials frowned today on any "1958 national championship" talk about the Irish football team as a result of its rousing finish this year.

It certainly was a tremendous wind-up that Notre Dame put on the 1957 campaign—a 94-point scoring spurge on the last two Saturdays, capped by last weekend's 54-21 rout of Southern Methodist here.

"But don't forget," warned a source close to the Irish coaching staff. "This Notre Dame squad is made up of a group that wasn't considered very good last year and one which many people thought was playing over its head this season."

"Few, if any, of our staunchest supporters figured we'd win five games this year," he said. "Now the big question is whether they will continue to play over their heads, so to speak, next season."

Coach Terry Brennan would comment only that his team played each "as it came up" this year and would try to use the same system in 1958.

"But with all this talk about national championships, it won't be easy," he added gloomily.

Saturday's win was a fitting climax to a season that saw the young Irish team bounce back from disaster—only two victories in 1956 to a 7-3 season that included a mighty upset of Oklahoma, a victory over Army and a 40-12 rout of Southern California.

These accomplishments came from a squad, loaded to the hilt with juniors and sophomores, which was ranked No. 9 in the nation this season by the United Press board of coaches.

Most of the 51,000 fans who saw the Irish rout of SMU came away convinced that the Irish were not playing over their heads.

What's in a toy? Perhaps a career. And mother, don't chew your nails at the thought of Junior blowing up the garage with his chemistry set. He may win a Nobel Prize some day.

Teen-age science contest winners of the last decade say their science interests started before they were 10 years old. A big boost came from chemistry and microscope sets.

These sets gave them a taste of scientific "wonders." Winners of A. C. Gilbert contests who are now adults carried it even further. All are in some phase of science professionally, a survey shows.

And even if Mother thought chemistry "dangerous," 60 per cent of the experimenters had home labs.

However, 7-15-year-olds can have fun with science without making it a career, the teen-agers agree. In fact, they can now solve neighborhood "crimes" with detection sets or surprise the family with a veritable garden, growing in water, applying hydroponics.
